SUPERHEROES LIVE AT COMLINKS COMMUNITY ACTION AGENCY!

There are superheroes living in Malone NY. The Comlinks staff of counsellors are a dedicated group, helping with domestic violence and other community issues. Meanwhile the carpenters & electricians use their expertise with low income housing projects. For their tireless efforts they were all treated to Emmanuel's re-energizing workshop at their annual Christmas meeting

A favorite exercise was the superhero ice breaker. Participants were divided into small groups where they each shared what super power they wished they had. They also chose a superhero name for themselves or were assisted by others in the spirit of teamwork. The all day workshop left everyone smiling.

COMMENTS:

"I enjoyed your seminar! We had a lot of fun! I think the company will really benefit from having fun together because a lot of times it's all business when we are at work. Your ice breakers are wonderful."

Nancy Combs-Murphy

"I thought the seminar was fun and full of ideas, you gave lots to think about. I think the parts I enjoyed the most was the superhero powers exercise and the childhood interests exercise. Sometimes as adults we get caught up in the now and forget all about the little things, so thinking of that was wonderful."

"I have had some real changes since your visit. Getting in touch with my passion(s) is the difference! They aren't exotic, but they're mine."

Linda Bentley

"I enjoyed the segment on what we love to do. I believe finding what we want to do not only makes our 'working lives better' but, our 'Whole Life' meaningful."
